A shift in mental focus is all one needs to perceive the World as a canvas each of us projects our dreams upon:
All that stands between the will to create the life one
Envisions, being dedication time and effort each of us
Invest in the interests of seeing an idea flourish, taking Root in the soil of minds of likeminded individuals with Hopes and dreams of a similar nature; as each of us
Seek to live a life that aligns with the authentic self:
Though how many are prepared to sacrifice the comforts
Of this world to water the fair seeds of imagination?
Unless the will to overcome the hardships of this world
Is stronger than the forces seeking to enslave the mind
The aspirations of youth will rot inside the mind's soil:
For no sole upon the face of this earth is promised tomorrow
Therefore, the time to act is now: if one values the gift of life
The decision to live a life pursuing that which brings a spark
Of joy to existence should be the focus of attention:
For all that diverts one from the path they seek to travel
Hinders the soul from discovering it's true nature.
